Description
It would make entering larger amounts of finds much easier and quicker if there was the number of already entered finds for that stratigraphic unit visible somewhere in the form.

History

After discussing this with Nina it turned out that she needs because she names the finds with numbers.
It would also be needed for human remains.

#2 - 2021-05-10 14:51 - Alexander Watzinger

- Status changed from New to Acknowledged
- Target version changed from Wishlist to 6.3.0

OpenAtlas meeting: decided to add count to breadcrumb in parenthesis

#3 - 2021-06-12 13:20 - Alexander Watzinger

- Subject changed from Add a count of already entered finds when entering additional finds to Show count of finds when entering additional
- Status changed from Acknowledged to Closed
- Assignee set to Alexander Watzinger
- Estimated time set to 2.00 h

Implemented that if inserting a find or human remains the count of already existing is shown in brackets in the breadcrumb.
Already in develop and online and at Thanados.
